“ The first time I met Bruce was during the High River flood, we both showed up to help at Mike and Lee-Anne's. We did a lot of work, but we also had a lot of laughs. I always enjoyed talking with him. R.I.P. my friend. My sincere condolences to his family and friends.

“ Uncle Bruce we miss and love you immensely. Your sister Rose's heart is so broken. We are all still in shock that you are gone. We can only hope you are in a good place and looking down on all of us. Mom talks about you all the time and reminisces on all the good times you both had together. She really misses talking to you and hearing your voice. I hope time will heal her broken heart, and you give her signs of your presence that your still close to her because she will need that more than anything.

I will always remember spending my childhood years with you. You always made me laugh and feel safe. I will especially miss how you use to tease me and make me laugh so hard that I tear up. I was so lucky to have had such a loving uncle. Thank you for always be there for me and being part of my life.

Mom and I will forever cherish the memories and keep you in our hearts until we meet again. Sending you a million hugs. ❤️❤️

“ It was Ryelee first Christmas and it was a good one I remember when grandma showed up to dads house that Christmas whenever I saw grandpa I always gave him a BIG hug he smelled liked his dogs he was so funny he never went anywhere without his dogs it was also the first time he meet Ryelee I took this picture because he looked so happy holding his great grandchild and I also wanted a picture of great grandpa and Ryelee so happy I have this picture forever your memory will not be forgotten It will live on with everyone one of us in the Remanda family

I remember the time Tyler and I helped you out the whole summer at the camp site and you made stew one day you cooked it all day long Tyler and I help of course I was telling you should add spices you say no because it's better to taste all the natural flavours I said oh I don't believe man where you ever right you smiled going told you so hahaha

You will never be forgotten your forever in are hearts

Love you so much grandpa

You in a better place looking over all of us loving us saying you guys are strong and will make it though this

You will live on though us

Not be forgotten

We love u do much

You will be missed
