

Mr. David Anthony Ewanishin

November 25, 1973 - September 14, 2022

It's with great sadness we announce the death of David Anthony Ewanishin. He is survived by his parents Tony and Sandra Ewanishin, his brother and sister-in-law Mark Ewanishin and Sandra Jensen and his niece Thyme and his nephews Hayden, Beckett and Felix. David was a one of a kind son, brother, uncle and co-worker.

Dave grew up in High River, Alberta and graduated from Senator Riley High School in 1991.

He was a great athlete and played multiple sports growing up, but his absolute favourite thing was the game of hockey. He grew up playing it, watching it, debating it, and was a loyal fan of the Calgary Flames and Team Canada.

He went on to SAIT to achieve a Chemical Laboratory Technology Diploma in 1995 And a B.Sc. in Environmental Sciences from Royal Roads University in 2005.

Dave was exceptionally proud of his work at Shell Canada and the relationships he had there. The technical nature of his work made it hard for us laypeople to understand, but his enthusiasm was always palpable! His work took him all around the world, and he was called on when there were problems at customer sites or manufacturing locations, he loved figuring out difficult problems. He was very good at his job and his coworkers loved him, as he did them. He was an important cog in the machine that is Shell, and will be greatly missed.

He was also a rocker who loved heavy metal music and was a bassist in his band "Buzzard" back in the early years. He was proud of the band and his contribution to it. There were many zany hijinks and madcap misadventures as they toured around Alberta.

Recently a good day for Dave was a round of golf followed an evening out with his buddies at one of the places he was a regular. Dave had a great and often 'on the line' sense of humour, people that knew him know what I mean. He was good at staying on the right side of the line as he kept his employment intact for 24 years.

He was very proud of his niece and nephews and would go to cheer them on at ringette and hockey, as well as talking music trends and recently golfing with them. While Dave was excited to see them grow up as the discussions went from Star Wars to SpaceX, his greatest disappointment was that they all grew up Oilers fans, but both sides had a healthy animosity toward each other. He had an ample supply of 'pro tips' for all of them from a time when hockey sticks were made of wood and phones were for calling people. The 'tips' were aged but there was humour, wisdom and love in all of them. He loved just talking to them, debating music, movies, tv shows. He was convinced that South Park was the greatest show of his generation. No matter the debate, he knew he was right.

Dave had great friends everywhere he went, he had an ability to connect with people on many levels, he loved conversation. He was a great at it. He knew a lot of stuff about a lot of stuff. Dave was a good neighbour and was involved with his condo board. He always helped people when they needed it.

Please join us at Dave's celebration of life on Saturday, October 8th at 1:00 p.m. at the Heritage Inn in High River. We encourage you to wear your favourite jersey or band shirt, or whatever as Dave didn't care about such formalities.

In lieu of flowers please consider making a donation to Alberta Adolescent Recovery Centre or the Calgary Flames Sport Bank. Both of these are matched donations for Shell Canada employees through the Benevity giving program.

Dear Sandra, Tony, Mark, and the rest of the Ewanishan family, how I wish I could be hear to deliver this in person, but as you may or not know that I'm in the hospital in Edmonton, where I just had part of my right leg amputated recently. I received this call from Tony that al.ost ripped my heart out, it of course being the terrible news about David, it sure shook me me up, even after I hung up I had to sit there any cry for 15 minutes.

Imagine losing your son, so deviating, your mind is numb and you are just stund.

After I come back to reality, I thought of all the good times we had at family affairs, trips and get together, at various times over the years, like the time we were at a pizza restaurant and David was just 4 years old and told the waitress he hadn't had pizza for five years, and when We visited The Ewanishans after they moved to High River and we were sleeping in the basement, and he ate down stairs and told Carel to get dressed, he wanted to watch, he was only 5 years old.

I remember all the good times we had camping, Manny good times to the Ewanishawin my deepest sympathy, REST IN PEACE DAVID, we miss you so much “ Dave and I met through Mark in Edmonton. We shared great moments anyone in their late teens/20's do...strangers paying us in beer to play the new Metallica single one more time; camping and country bars; concerts in venues that gave beer with the six-pack ring still attached. 20+ years went by and we got to know each other again. This time, memorable moments include OH&S debriefs, Canada Day 2020 fireworks, and Flames/Oilers game assessments. The Dave I knew was mature, calm, thoughtful, warm and a man of routines. I looked forward to joining him when I had time someday for golf, a hockey game in person (or at least at Jamieson's) and more. I will miss him dearly and I feel so much for the family and friends who knew him even better than I did. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all.

“ My sincere condolences to all the family. I'm still struggling to comprehend the fact that Dave is no longer with us - I miss him as a team member, a colleague but mostly as a friend. I'll never forget him sharing Norm MacDonald Jokes which I didn't get, and it took him 15 minutes to explain - the joke wasn't funny anymore, but we had great fun talking it through. He also teased me that I was going soft in my old days when I told him I had visited the Imagine Dragons concert but not Greenday. Christiane

“ *Mr and Mrs Ewanishin, Mark and family,
I am more sorry than words can express to hear that Dave has passed away. He was a good person, a good friend and a fabulous story teller. And his face absolutely lit up with pride when talking about his niece and nephews.*

We shared an off-side sense of humor that made working at Shell even more enjoyable. I remember when I broke a beaker in my lab and needed to borrow the broom from his lab. With a straight face, he asked if my car had broke down. I laughed...so hard...and I still chuckle about it years later.

Sadly, we won't be able to make the service for Dave but please accept our deepest condolences. We lost a kind and generous man.

Dave, I will miss having soup together on our birthdays. The tradition will continue, one bowl now not two, and with a heavy heart.

I never minded getting a Canadian grease question because I knew that I'd get to chat with Dave - get a great answer and have fun doing it. I had the pleasure of working with Dave at the Shell Research Centre for a number of years and have great respect for his work quality and ethic; he was so passionate about his work! At a time when my family was bouncing around Alberta we had a stop over in High River and I didn't want to go to another school to have to go through meeting people again but I'm sure glad we did as David touched my life forever and I never took the chance to tell him how much he meant to me. He accepted me when our family had nothing, kids were being cruel and David wasn't he accepted me for who I was. I will always be ever thankful to you as just treating me like a human being. Thank you David it meant a lot in that moment of my life. I will always remember the days we'd race to your house so we could watch POWER HOUR and pretend we were in the bands and eat your dads jerky. I remember one video by the Plasmatics as the bus went through the TVs and David's unforgettable laugh and how we would play it over and over again. Thanks for saving my life in '99 you put yourself in jeopardy to save me in that crazy mosh pit in Vancouver. Im so glad that our worlds collided.

Rest In Peace David.

“ Dave - my work husband for 5yrs, not sure if he shared that tidbit, we know things about one another that not many people at work would know and we both enjoy what some might call off-side humour, yes even at work we went outside the lines. We could typically be found eating lunch together, having lively conversations, sharing challenges, victories and getting personal about our lives and the future.

To the Ewanishin family, Dave is massively respected, talented, great company and as real as they come. I am indeed blessed to have walked with him on this earth. Thank you for sharing Dave with me.

“ It is with much sadness to receive the shocking news of the passing of Dave. We were just in the same team call the night before!

I will always remember you, Dave, as someone with a good sense of humour, who is capable of injecting positivity when the going gets tough. You always have something good to say about anything! You are professional in your work and never fail to show compassion and empathy to others.

Though I haven't had the chance to work with you closely in the past 3 years, I know you are someone I can depend on if I need help.

It is my honour and great pleasure to have worked with you in the same global team. I will miss you. Rest In Peace, Dave.

“ My sincerest condolences. This obituary captures Dave so well. He will be missed greatly as a friend and coworker at Shell, and personally. The void he leaves is deeply layered, and many will struggle to adapt personally, professionally and beyond.

I had the great fortune of working with Dave and like him, our “on the line” humour likely brought us over the line for the sake of a good laugh on a few occasions and always enjoyed times spent sharing stories over a pint.

Take care and hope all find solace and comfort in the fond memories and echoes of Dave’s laugh well beyond memory.

I remember one video by the Plasmatiks as the bus went through the TVs and David's unforgettable laugh and how we would play it over and over again. I'm so thankful that our worlds collided. Rest In Peace David

So sad to hear of David's passing. A ferocious lineman who loved football. Many fond memories of having coached and taught him back at "Riley". A student and athlete with a heart of gold, and a gentle soul. You guys are in my thoughts. Fez
