“ I had the awesome pleasure of meeting Toots on more than one occasion and her wonderful husband and family. She was in my books the most precious human as a wife, mother, grandmother and all round person. I loved her spirit and character. She touched my heart and God has taken an earth angel to His care. I am so sorry for the loss her family has now to deal with but the memories will definitely keep her alive until they meet again. Memory is the one gift of God that death cannot destroy. Love to all.

“ I didn't know your mom well, but, coincidentally, as we prepare for the 50th anniversary year of Windmill Theatre Players, I was reading the minutes from 1977 written by the secretary, Toots Young. She was a very important part the group in it's formative years. My thoughts are with you all and would love to hear from any of you who might like to share any memories of her or your years with WTP. Celia Penman

WTP began in our home in Alderheights in the mid 70's. My whole family was involved, due to our love of Theatre. Please let us know when the celebration will be.

That smile, and the twinkle in her eyes, is how I remember our Toots! Church, pub nights, gatherings with friends, and now a treasured friend with daughters Lori, who has her mom's laughter- and Diane, who kept me up to date on mom these past 10 years. To all the family, I know you will celebrate her life, and share all those treasured times together. Sending love and hugs to all.

“ We have so many happy memories of "Toots", and the whole Young family, when we were neighbours out in Alder Heights. What fun we had building the community there and Toots was a great part of that. She was a kind and thoughtful lady. John's favourite memory of Toots is the time she invited him over for breakfast after our son's birth - which happened to be the same day as Dianne's third birthday. All the family were home and John couldn't believe the huge pile of bacon that Toots cooked, but with six children I'm sure Toots was used to cooking in those quantities. Our condolences to the family. You are in our thoughts.
