“ Hi Santa. Sad news for me and many others. Hope you are coping with your loss, as I am with Meg's partial loss into frail care for Alzheimers. I Googled you and him while in Canada, but too inept to track you down. All my thoughts and admiration for you both, Alan

“Gerry was a remarkable person in many spheres of interest. I first met him in Pretoria when we both worked in different departments at the University of Pretoria. Santa also worked there in the Merensky Library where they met..

We used to spend a lot of time together and I was always fascinated by Gerry's dry sense of humour and his curiosity about many things. I used to join Gerry on field trips looking for scorpions on which he was an expert. I remember one occasion where we were looking for scorpions that make a deep burrow under a rock. Every rock that Gerry turned over sheltered a scorpion while all the rocks that I turned over were uninhabited. Gerry just had this incredible ability to observe. At one time Gerry lived in a small apartment in Pretoria which he shared with about 100 scorpions living in glass containers on a shelf of his book case. Occasionally an adventurous scorpion would escape and Gerry and the cleaner would always make a successful recovery.

Gerry's knowledge of photography was legendary and every problem was an opportunity for Gerry to come up with a unique solution. Gerry was also a keen motor cyclist and had a powerful Triumph motorcycle. Unfortunately a lady in a car turned in front of Gerry causing him to injure his arm. Gerry always made me laugh when he would describe this incident and similar occasions where people behaved unpredictably..

Gerry has the honour of having a species of scorpion named after him. He used to spend a lot of time in the Namib desert looking for unknown scorpions that evolve on inselbergs in the desert. I recall one called Hadogenes troglodytes which is a very long and slender scorpion that has adapted to living in narrow cracks in the hot desert rocks seeking shade and cool habitat lower down.

Gerry was a perfectionist and was very knowledgeable about cameras and microscopes. He would make many specialist tools himself when these were not readily available.

Fortunately my wife Hengelene and I managed to visit Gerry and Santa in High River on 2 occasions where we exchanged many pleasant memories.

It is with these memories that I say goodbye to Gerry. You will be missed my friend, but never forgotten. It was always wonderful to spend time with Gerry and listen to the amazing knowledge and experiences that he would share.

Santa our warm regards go to you and our deep gratitude for the unselfish way that you looked after Gerry. may you be blessed in all your future endeavours. Wendel and Hengelene. Totsiens Gerry..

“ With much sadness, I extend my condolences to Santa and family for their loss. Gerry was a remarkable story teller who used the medium of photography to share his view on the Natural World. I will always remember the light in his eyes when he was retelling a story, or adventure that he had been on, taking us back with him to that place in time. Through love and memories his light will keep shining.

“ The photo is Gerry photographing 13,000 year old horse and camel tracks at Wally's Beach, Alberta using an apparatus designed and built by him to take stereo pairs of images so they could be viewed in three dimensions.

“ *With extreme sadness we extend our very special condolences to Santa and family on the passing of Gerry. He has now been blessed with eternal rest after enduring so many years of declining health. We remember Gerry as a dear friend and a person who has left a legacy of contributions in the realm of natural sciences.
