“ For nearly 10 years I counted Kris as my very best friend. She was amazing.. Almost always smiling. Passionate about her family, her work with seniors and always kind and caring to her friends. I especially remember her cooking and baking. Vegetarian lasagne, pasta salad and wonderful muffins were some of her best creations. She is the only woman I know who actually said she enjoyed doing laundry. For some reason that was not work for her. She often shared interesting news about her parents, brother and sisters. She missed them terribly, wishing often that there was not so much land between Alberta and Ontario. The love or her life her husband, Kim. She frequently told me how lucky she was to have her husband and amazing boys in her life. I will struggle for a long time trying to understand why a person with so much love and kindness in her heart had to leave her family and friends so soon. My deepest sympathies to Kris' family.
