“ You taught my friend Alicia how to love and be loved. You came along at the perfect time for her and she is so much the better person for having you love her. Thank you. She would tell me regularly all the special things you would do. You take a large piece of her heart with you, but because of you She knows the meaning of love

“ Well known, well loved and well missed. A good guy with a heart of gold.
Will never forget your huge smile when you met Grayson. The messages everyday asking if he had been using his pink play matt because your gonna be the reason he learns to crawl.
You will never be far from mind darl.

“ A friend, family member and a work colleague gone far too young. So many more rodeos to attend, more beersies to have, laughs and memories to make and so much more life to live. Seems so unfair. Thoughts to all of Kyles family. He was definitely one in a million and nothing he couldn't get away with 😞
