“ To my DAD in HEAVEN:

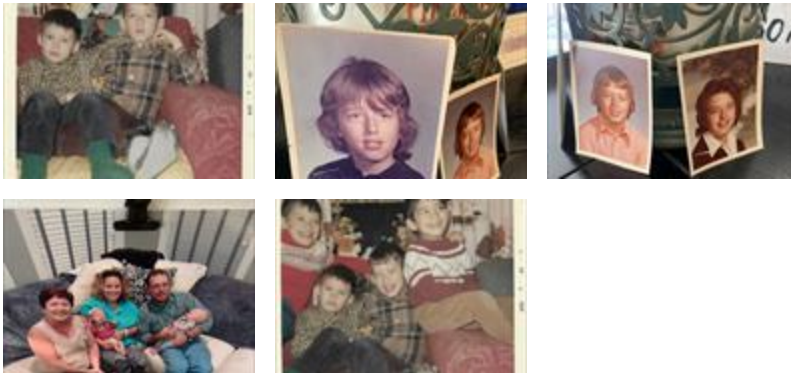

“Your wings were ready but our hearts were not”

The hardest thing I have ever had to do is say goodbye to you and let your spirit free from this earth. I know you are here with us dad, I see you, hear you and feel you as we walk through this painful journey of living without you. The moments I'm most thankful for are trucking me around with you everywhere when I was little, you teaching me to ride a bike, drive a standard, our month on the island, our last trip to Manitoba, ice fishing, building my dance studios together, all the wonderful times with your grandkids (and pups) and how you always made your family a priority.

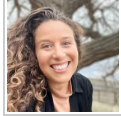

We hold your healing blanket close and wrap ourselves in it for a BIG Lenny Hug.

We have all the Christmas gifts you ordered for your precious grandkids, but its not the same without you. There's a piece of our hearts missing when you left this earth, but we will continue to share all your love, experiences, memories, achievements and legacy and make you PROUD of your family each and everyday. LOVE YOU xoxo

Another amazing memory was how proud dad was of Kris playing hockey in the WHL and how we would travel all around to watch him play (or fight) and how dad held the antennas of the stereo as High and Wide as he could so we could hear kris hockey game on the road (with bad reception) or listen in the car (in the garage) as the reception was better there.

“ I am saddened to hear about Len's passing. It was many years ago, but I do remember him when he lived next door. Brittany and I were close to the same age.

Brittany and Lee-Anne, so sorry for your loss.

“ Remembering my son-in-law - Len was hardworking, loyal, trustworthy and a man who loved his family above all else. When Brittany & Kris were developing their basement he would work all week, drive to Lethbridge and work all weekend framing the basement.

On the day of my move to High River from Okotoks Len came to see how things were going. He arrived just as the movers were unloading. I so appreciated him coming to check on me.

Deb, I remember him talking about the ice fishing too. I asked him why he would want to do it, why he would want to freeze just to catch a few fish. He just grinned!! We had a laugh.

I am deeply saddened by Len's sudden passing.

Rest in peace, Love Karen

“ Conversations with my brother will be cherished. We often talked about his grandkids and what they had been up to. What he would do once he retired. I will especially remember one conversation that we had when he was out ice fishing. He was so proud of the set-up in his hut. He not only had the fishing equipment but also he was outfitted with his record player and the comforts of home. He could just sit back, fishing rod carefully placed and listen to his favorite tunes. Will miss our talks, love you my brother.
