“ *Helen, Jen&Jody, Marie,
We were so shocked and deeply saddened to hear of Neil's passing. He was one of the nicest people we have ever had the pleasure of knowing. We will miss him and his fabulous, freshly baked loaves that graced many a great dinner gathering, made all the better for the presence of you both, Helen. If we can help in any way to ease this difficult time for you all, please don't hesitate to ask.
We will hold happy memories of Neil in our hearts forever.

“ I'm sorry, Helen and family, for your loss. I have amazing memories, of visiting at the book store, when my girls were just babies. It was always a welcome place to come. I also feel like Neil was reintroduced to me, since the flood, as I often hear about his Thursday morning breakfasts, at A&W, with Thomas...I know that Thomas will really miss having his best friend in his life. Again, so sorry for your loss.
