Noella was predeceased by her loving husband Roger Legault and her brother-in-law Ed.

Noella loved spending time with her family and was always there to celebrate special life events and occasions. Noella had such distinctive voice and soft laugh that disguised a great sense of humour. I don't ever remember hearing her say a negative word about anybody. If I could describe her in one word, it would be "nice." Maybe not a dramatic description, but few very few people actually qualify for it. It's been years since we've been together in person but I'll still miss her.

Dean and I were so very sorry to learn of Auntie Noella's passing. A lovely lady with a great laugh and zest for life, she was the last of a generation, and will be sorely missed. Sending loving thoughts to all my cousins and their families.
